

Code of conduct

1. Goal and motivation

Responsible and lawful behaviour is an integral part of our corporate culture and is a prerequisite for the success of our business. The excellent reputation enjoyed by LISSMAC Maschinenbau GmbH, which we continue to develop with great commitment on a daily basis, can be damaged by individual legal violations. For this reason, every single employee is obliged to act conscientiously and to comply with this code of conduct, other company guidelines and applicable laws. We are aware of our economic, ecological and social responsibilities, and these are firmly anchored in our corporate policy.

LISSMAC Maschinenbau GmbH strives for a cooperative relationship with its business partners, which is characterized by mutual benefit. Our business partners are also expected to comply with the following requirements.

We not only set high standards for ourselves, but also strive to maintain these values along the entire value creation chain. This is based on the simple realization that responsible action and economic success are not mutually exclusive, but promote one another.
